

Adverbs of Place

Adverbs of place tell us where an action happens.
Question: Where? (Qayerda? Qayerga? Qayerdan?)

Common Adverbs of Place

Adverb	Meaning
here	bu yerda
there	u yerda
somewhere	biror joyda
anywhere	biror joyda (so'roq/inkor)
nowhere	hech qayerda
everywhere	hamma joyda
away	uzoqqa
abroad	chet elda
upstairs	yuqori qavatda
downstairs	pastki qavatda

Position of Adverbs of Place

- *Adverbs of place usually come after the verb
- Structure: Subject + Verb + (Object) + Place + Time
 - I saw him there yesterday.
 - We met somewhere last week.
 - She stayed abroad for two years.
 - I have seen him somewhere before.
- Notice: Place before Time

Preposition + Noun as Adverbs of Place

- *Some place expressions are formed with: Preposition + Noun
 - on a perch | in the doorway | near me
 - above the washbasin | over the city
- The parrot sat on a perch.
- He stood in the doorway.
- He lives near me.
- There is a mirror above the washbasin.
- Helicopters dropped leaflets over the city.

NOWHERE

- Meaning: "Hech qayerda" / "hech qayerga"
- Where are you going? Nowhere. (= I am not going anywhere.)
- Beginning of a Sentence
- When Nowhere starts a sentence, inversion occurs.
- Structure: Nowhere + auxiliary verb + subject + main verb
- Nowhere will you find better roses than these.
- Nowhere does the article mention his name.
- Nowhere have I seen such beauty.

Expression: Get Nowhere

- Meaning: achieve nothing | make no progress
- Threatening people will get you nowhere.
- Sleeping all day gets you nowhere.
- Smoking cigarettes will get you nowhere.
- Missing the lessons got Abror nowhere

Here / There with Inversion

- When here or there introduces something that has just appeared, the verb comes before the subject.
- Normal Word Order - Tom is here. | The bus is there.
- Inverted Word Order - Here is Tom! | There is the bus!
- Meaning: "Mana Tom!" , "Ana avtobus!"
- Here comes Tomsonjon. | There goes Makhliyo.
- Here comes the teacher. | There goes my students.

Pronouns Do NOT Invert

- If the subject is: he | she | it | they | we | I | you the normal order remains.
- ❌ Here comes it. | ✅ Here it comes.
- ❌ There goes he. | ✅ There he goes.
- Here I am.
- There she is.
- Here it comes.
- There they go.

Inversion with Movement Adverbs

- After certain adverbs of movement:
- away | down | up | out | in | off | round | over
- the verb often comes before the subject.
- Structure: Adverb + Verb + Subject
- Away went the runners. | Down fell a dozen apples.
- Out sprang the cuckoo. | Round flew the plane.
- Off went the children. | In came the teacher.
- Up jumped Aziz.

Pronouns Again Do Not Invert

- Away they went. | Off I went.
- Round it flew. | Out he came.
- NOT:
- ✗ Away went they. | ✗ Off went I.

Preposition + Verb + Subject Inversion

- After a prepositional phrase, especially in descriptive writing, the subject may follow the verb.
- Structure: Prepositional Phrase + Verb + Subject
- In the doorway stood a man with a gun. = A man stood with a gun in the doorway.
- On a perch sat a blue parrot. = A blue parrot sat on a perch.
- Over the wall came a shower of stones.
- At the end of the road stood an old house.
- In the garden sat three children.

Comparison of Normal and Inverted Forms

Normal Order	Inverted Order
Tom is here.	Here is Tom.
He is here.	Here he is.
The teacher came in.	In came the teacher.
A man stood in the doorway.	In the doorway stood a man.
The children went off.	Off went the children.

SUMMARY

Topic	Example
Place adverb	She went away.
Place before time	I saw him there yesterday.
Nowhere (short answer)	Nowhere.
Nowhere + inversion	Nowhere have I seen such beauty.
Here/There inversion	Here comes Tom.
Pronoun no inversion	Here he comes.
Movement adverbs	Away went the runners.
Preposition + inversion	In the doorway stood a man.